

HOME

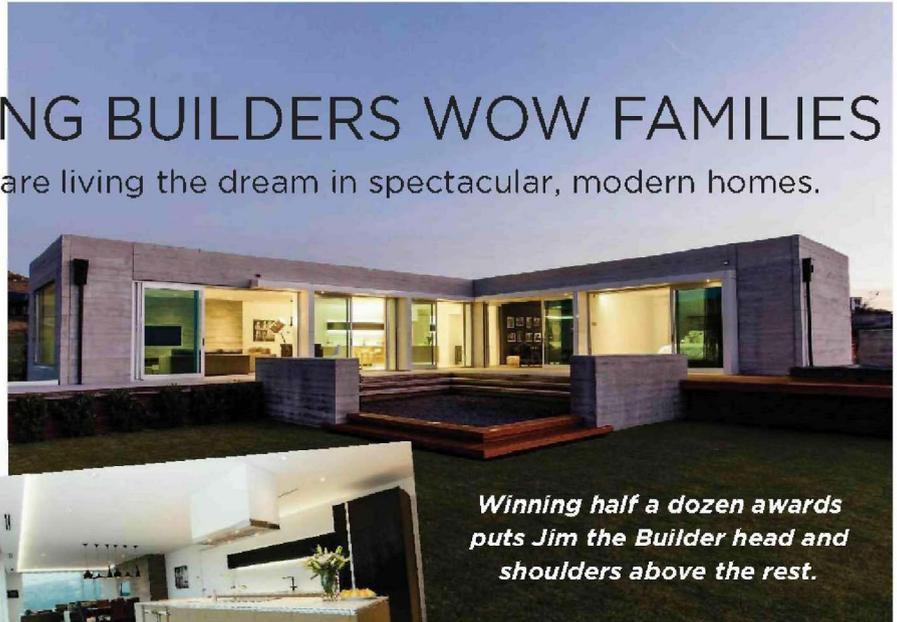

AWARD-WINNING BUILDERS WOW FAMILIES

Two Canterbury families are living the dream in spectacular, modern homes.

Scoping a swag of awards for two luxury residential dwellings late last year, Jim the Builder has cemented his reputation within the industry as a quality craftsman who creates homes you'll never want to leave.

For a family on the outskirts of Christchurch, an ultra-modern concrete bungalow has all the mod cons for the ultimate sustainable, luxury lifestyle. Complete with expansive vistas across Canterbury and the Southern Alps and equipped with fully integrated state-of-the-art thermal and energy-efficient solutions, this home offers stylish simplicity finished to a high-end quality standard that impressed the judges.

Winning half a dozen awards, including the top accolade at the Architectural Designers New Zealand Awards, two golds at the Registered Master Builders House of the Year Awards, and the Master Joiners Best Kitchen Award (Ryan's Kitchens), puts Jim the Builder head and shoulders above the rest.

Winning half a dozen awards puts Jim the Builder head and shoulders above the rest.

Photos by Jamie Armstrong Photography

A stunning renovation on Sumner's waterfront took out two golds at the Registered Master Builders House of the Year Awards. This quake-ravaged character bungalow was transformed beyond all recognition into a spectacular modern family home with the design expertise of Weir Architecture and brought to fruition by the building experts at Jim the Builder.

Whether it's a new build or revitalising an old home, the company's director Jim Stenberg and his team have been making dreams come true for Cantabrians for the past decade. "Our philosophy is simple," says Jim. "We do a great job with great people, to build great homes."