

OPEN SPACE: New York Deli, based at Bush Inn, was awarded the 2016 Resene Colour in Design Architectural Design Award last week. The ADNZ | Resene Architectural Design Awards are held annually and this year more than 149 entries were received. The awards recognise creative and well-designed residential, commercial, alterations and multi-use projects from across New Zealand. The judge's comments on the architecture designed by Hierarchy Architecture's Chris Wheeler was the building was created with clever attention to detail.
