

turner road architecture

Turner Road Architecture, is an award-winning architectural practice, based in the popular township of Cambridge. They're an established team who match long-standing practical experience with a passion for stunning, unique architecture. Their dedication to making sure their clients' design aspirations are met, is something they take very seriously.

Turner Road Architecture have earned a reputation for creativity and exceptional attention to detail in all areas of architecture - from residential new homes and renovations to large-scale commercial and industrial design. Respected in the industry for the quality of their work – the Turner Road team were recently acknowledged in the 2017 Waikato/ Bay of Plenty Regional ADNZ Resene Architectural Design Awards.

They won commendations for the Residential New Home between 150 and 300sqm and Residential Alterations and Additions categories and the big prize - the Architectural Design Award for Residential New Home over 300sq.

Director Lee Turner said "My team and I are thrilled to receive these awards and honoured that people are excited about the architecture we are creating. We love designing great buildings and put as much focus on livability and buildability as we do on clever, creative design."

Architectural Design New Zealand (ADNZ) chief executive Astrid Andersen said "ADNZ is very proud to acknowledge our designers, especially as the quality of competing designs increases every year," Andersen said.

"A special mention must go to Lee Turner for winning a top regional award in his first year of entering the ADNZ awards."

Turner Road Architecture have had their work recognized many times over the years since Lee Turner established the business in 2006. And although winning awards is a heartening testimony to their work - their passion for creating impactful, cleverly thought-out designs with 'wow' factor and delivering on their clients' aspirations - are the driving forces that motivate and set the Turner Road Architecture Team apart.
